FLOWRIDER® SAFETY RULES AND PROCEDURES

This is a very strenuous ride.

Riders must be able to swim in turbulent moving water.

- Flow/bodyboarding or body surfing this sheet wave is a body-active, participatory sport. As with all sports, care must be taken to avoid injury.
- Riders must be in good physical condition and free from any physical limitations to participate. Pregnant women and persons with a history of heart, back, neck, shoulder, or joint problems should not ride.
- CAUTION! The ride surface is very slippery.
- Riders must be at least 42 inches tall to participate.
- Riders must be barefoot.
- The flowing water may pull off bathing suit tops, bottoms, and loose clothing. Cover ups are suggested.
- Jewelry, hats, eye glasses, or loose articles of any type are not recommended on the ride as they may injure the participant or damage the ride surface.

- Bodyboarding: When instructed by the Wave Attendant, place your bodyboard into the launch ramp, slick side down. Lie down with your stomach on the bodyboard, head first, with your hips along the rear edge of the board. Your legs should be extended straight behind you. Your hands should grab the forward rails of the board.
- Flowboarding: When instructed by the Wave Attendant, position your front foot onto the flowboard approximately 16 inches from the front of the board and place your back foot approximately four inches from the tail of the board. Place your weight primarily on your back foot.
- Avoid jumping into or entering the ride at high speeds - YOU WILL WIPE OUT!
- Steer your flow/bodyboard into the center of the flowing water. You can control your board by gently shifting your weight. Obey the Wave Staff at all times.
- Single riding only is permitted. NO tandem riders or multiple riding is allowed.
- Horseplay and daredevil stunts are not permitted.
